Green Week of the European Union: Inspiration for the Blue EcoFest

The Green Week of the European Union is an annual event organized by the European Commission to promote sustainable development and an ecological lifestyle. It is a time when people from all over Europe come together to emphasize the importance of environmental protection, working together for a better future for our planet.

This year's Green Week is dedicated to the theme of water conservation and the issues related to droughts and water shortages in the European Union.

The Blue EcoFest draws inspiration from the values and goals promoted by the EU Green Week, taking on the challenge of creating a unique ecological event in the Silesian Voivodeship. Our goal is not only to highlight the importance of environmental protection and adaptation to climate change but also to provide inspiration and tools that will enable residents of the region to actively engage in the ecological revolution.
